The diagram shows a rectangular room with a grid background. On the left wall, there is a vertical rectangular area labeled 'Medientechnik'. The main area of the room contains four rows of seats. Each row consists of a long rectangular table on the left, a row of five chairs in the middle, and another long rectangular table on the right. Each chair is represented by a rounded rectangle with four 'x' marks inside, indicating a seat. The chairs are arranged in a 4x5 grid. There are also two curved lines at the top corners of the room, possibly representing door swings or lighting fixtures.
